

STUDIO DANIEL LIBESKIND, ARCHITECT LLC

Mr. Scott Hughes
Project Manager
Ohio Valley Electrical Services
Cincinnati, Ohio 45246

Dear Scott,

The Ascent at Roebling's Bridge in Covington provides a dynamic addition to the skyline of the greater Cincinnati area and is a dramatic departure from the surrounding waterfront buildings. Its curving crescent form and sloping roof line are designed to maximize views, with each unit having an unobstructed view of the Cincinnati skyline. Studio Daniel Libeskind worked on this project with Corporex, and many others to ensure that the building met the great design standards we put forth. The building was completed in March 2008 and to achieve that goal required the very best from all who had a hand in its construction.

Our thanks go to you, Scott, and to Tim Gibson as on-site manager, and to all the people from Ohio Valley Electrical Services who contributed to the spectacular success we share in building The Ascent. On all things electrical, your team provided the ideal balance between functionality and a finish that delivers the sense of perfection and elegance we sought.

Our special thanks go to your managers, who worked with us in pre-construction meetings. The Ascent is like no other building anywhere in the world, and your organization handled its unique, challenging design characteristics with willing professionalism. A job well done!

Sincerely,

Lynn Krogh
Studio Daniel Libeskind
Public Relations Director